

- Arrangements for this shipment were made via email to shoot@deviating.net
- I have not packed anything illegal in this box
- I have not packed any firearms in this box
- I have used heavy-duty packaging materials and secured this package up to the best of my ability
- I have not used packing peanuts
- I understand that only the person with legal, valid ID matching the recipient name can claim this package at the DC Shoot, unless alternate plans were made by sending an email to shoot@deviating.net from the original email address used to arrange this shipment
- I understand that this package will be ready for pick-up at the DC Shoot on Wednesday afternoon and also on Thursday morning. If this package is unclaimed by noon on Thursday of the DC Shoot, there is a chance that I may forfeit its contents or that I will have to pay to have it shipped back to its origin via a service chosen by the DC Shoot Staff
- I understand that after claiming this package at the DC Shoot, I am fully responsible for conveying this box and its contents back out of the desert and making my own arrangements for getting things back home

I, _____, fully understand all of the terms above and have initialed in the boxes beside each of them. I will not hold the DC Shoot or its organizers responsible for any loss, damage, or difficulty with this process if I have not followed any or all of the above terms.

My contact information was sent to shoot@deviating.net and is also being shared here...

Nickname:

Name:

Address:

Mobile:

Email:

Signed,

DC SHOOT

DC SHOOT